Mini, but mighty:
11 good reasons for the taz*

* abbreviation for taz – possibly the best loved national newspaper in Germany Independence
A luxury we can afford

„Let’s buy the taz before someone else beats us to it!“
– with this idea in 1992 the taz cooperative was born.
A major advantage of the coop was that no big company could dictate our way of publishing.

Success proved us right: The taz is still accountable only to its 210,000* and to itself (as well as to independent and critical reporting). More than 17,000 of our readers, friends and co-workers support the independence of the taz through investments and voluntary payments, such as „taz zahl ich.“

That’s a solid investment into press diversity.
Thanks to everybody involved!

Credibility
The taz is not only read

Readers of the taz build a relationship with us. They become involved and discuss the issues. The paper is loved – and the themes often passionately debated.

Either in print or online – the taz stands for quality journalism and commitment. That includes being equipped with the best available technology to assist in our journalistic excellence.

And we’re always right in the midst of events: 31 foreign correspondents alone work for the taz in Europe and the Middle East, in Africa and Asia.

Regardless if it’s big politics or a grassroots movement – we are there... everywhere... worldwide!
Commitment
Actions speak louder than words!

„Wir warten nicht auf bessere Zeitungen, wir machen selbst eine.“
Mit diesen Worten startete 1978 das taz Projekt.
Ziel war es, Nachrichten unabhängig publizieren zu können.
Seitdem engagiert sich die taz für eine kritische Öffentlichkeit, tritt ein für Menschenrechte, Gerechtigkeit und Umweltschutz und ermutigt zu solidarischem Handeln.
Die taz, das sind eben nicht nur Worte, sondern auch Taten.
Und weil es uns wichtig ist, dass Menschen sich einmischen, verleiht die taz Stiftung jährlich den taz Panter Preis an Heldinnen und Helden des Alltags.

Solidarity
You’re welcome to pay a little more!

Actually, a taz subscription is 47.90 Euro per month. But sadly, not everybody can afford that much. So not everybody has to.

It’s quite simple, really:
She or he who has less, pays less – and can enjoy a full taz-subscription at a reduced rate of 29.90 Euro, with no questions asked.

And those who can afford to pay a little more and help others to a great newspaper pay our „political price“ – still a bargain at 59.90 Euro.

This amazingly fair offer goes for the taz e-paper as well. Because we take care that everybody who wants to read taz is able to do so!

Editors, readers, coop members – they all want nothing but the truth. At the taz, the truth has its own daily page DIE WAHRHEIT (the truth) – which ranks among the best loved sections in the entire paper.

This beloved section of the taz takes a satirical look at current events. Plus, there’s TOM – one of the most popular newspaper cartoons.

Which means that our readers are not only exceptionally well educated and better informed* – they also have a sense of humor.

Visions

Limits to growth, nuclear phaseout and a sustainable future for all have been the top topics for the taz right from the beginning.

And how the world has changed.

Now sustainability has become the new cool. Even old industries are thinking in terms of clean and green today. Consumers crave for healthy and eco-friendly products – but only from companies that play their part in a responsible society. That includes treating their staffs fairly, too.

Economy and environment go together. For the taz and its journalists, this has been pretty clear from the very start all those years ago.

Has society finally caught up with the taz?
Innovation

1978 The first taz was published.

1985 The taz installed the most advanced editorial system in Germany.

1990 Mit der Ost-taz wird die taz zur ersten flächendeckenden gesamtdeutschen Zeitung – von DDR-KollegInnen produziert.

1992 The taz cooperative was founded.

1995 The taz was the first German newspaper to offer its entire editorial content on the web.

2008 The taz Panter Foundation founded to increase civic involvement of the taz, including the Panther Prize for social engagement.

2014 The taz is building a new home.
The new building will be part of an arts and cultural district,
just a stone’s throw away from its current location.

2016 The taz goes „on tour“ to strengthen the open society at its location.

2017 Two online portals: taz gazete, in order to give turkish journalists a voice and taz leicht for those, who need to be informed of the Bundestag election in an easy-order-to-understand language.
