

Mini,
but mighty:

11 good reasons for the taz*

* abbreviation for tageszeitung – possibly the best loved daily national newspaper in Germany

1

Independence

A luxury we can afford

„Let's buy the taz before someone else beats us to it!“
– with this idea in 1992 the taz cooperative was born.
A major advantage of the coop was that no big company could dictate our way of publishing.

Success proved us right: The taz is still accountable only to its 225.000* readers and to itself (as well as to independent and critical reporting). Almost 20.000 of our readers, friends and co-workers support the independence of the taz through investments and voluntary payments, such as „taz zahl ich.“

That's a solid investment into press diversity.
Thanks to everybody involved!

Credibility

The taz is not only read

Readers of the taz build a relationship with us.
They become involved and discuss the issues.
The paper is loved – and the themes often passionately debated.

Either in print or online – the taz stands for quality journalism and commitment. That includes being equipped with the best available technology to assist in our journalistic excellence.

And we're always right in the midst of events:
31 foreign correspondents alone work for the taz
in Europe and the Middle East, in Africa and Asia.

Regardless if it's big politics or a grassroots movement –
we are there... everywhere... worldwide!

Commitment

Actions speak louder than words!

„We're done waiting for a better newspaper, we should start our own.“

Based on this decision the taz project started in 1978, aimed at publishing independent news. Since then the taz has supported critical public views, human rights issues, social fairness and environmental themes. In addition, we encourage our readers to show solidarity.

Well done is sometimes even better than well said!

Because we think it necessary to get people involved, every year the taz Panter Foundation awards a prize for „everyday heroines and heros.“

Solidarity

You're welcome to pay a little more!

Actually, a taz subscription is 52.90 Euro per month. But sadly, not everybody can afford that much. So not everybody has to.

It's quite simple, really:

She or he who has less, pays less – and can enjoy a full taz-subscription at a reduced rate of 33.90 Euro, with no questions asked.

And those who can afford to pay a little more and help others to a great newspaper pay our „political price“ – still a bargain at 64.90 Euro.

This amazingly fair offer goes for the taz e-paper as well. Because we take care that everybody who wants to read taz is able to do so!

TOUCHÉ

Touché

Editors, readers, coop members – they all want nothing but the truth.

At the taz, the truth has its own daily page DIE WAHRHEIT (the truth) – which ranks among the best loved sections in the entire paper.

This beloved section of the taz takes a satirical look at current events. Plus, there's TOM – one of the most popular newspaper cartoons.

Which means that our readers are not only exceptionally well educated and better informed* – they also have a sense of humor.

Visions

Limits to growth, nuclear phaseout and a sustainable future for all have been the top topics for the taz right from the beginning.

And how the world has changed.

Now sustainability has become the new cool.

Even old industries are thinking in terms of clean and green today.

Consumers crave for healthy and eco-friendly products – but only from companies that play their part in a responsible society.

That includes treating their staffs fairly, too.

Economy and environment go together. For the taz and its journalists, this has been pretty clear from the very start all those years ago.

Has society finally caught up with the taz?
